

Chiro Insider

Issue: September 2006

Normal Version

One-on-One With an Industry Expert

Chiropractic Products spoke to Joe Fawcett, DC, CCSP, spokesperson for Drucker Labs Inc in Parker, Tex, to find out how Drucker Labs' products can improve patients' health.

Why are organically complexed trace minerals essential to a patient's health?

"Every ailment, every sickness, and every disease can be traced back to an organic mineral deficiency."—Linus Pauling, two-time Nobel Prize winner and renowned scientist, while addressing the 74th US Congress.

In other words, 100% organic trace minerals are essential to sustaining a healthy life.

Without 100% organically complexed minerals, cells cease to function properly, the immune system decays, the nervous system deteriorates, and the body begins to age more rapidly. Vitamins and most other nutrients are not effective.

What do you mean by the term "organic"?

We are not referring to the more typical commercial meaning of the word organic—produced without the use of toxic chemicals, pesticides, etc. We are using the term organic in its true scientific sense to describe trace minerals that contain "living carbon."

Where can I find supplements that contain 100% organically complexed trace minerals?

Most trace-mineral products do not contain sufficient quantities of true organics to sustain our bodies. True 100% organic microcomplexed™ carbon-based trace minerals and nutrients are available only from Drucker Labs. intraMAX™ from Drucker Labs contains more than 70 trace minerals that are all 100% organic microcomplexed, plus more than 415 daily essential nutrients.

How can chiropractors obtain more information about intraMAX?

Learning more about Drucker Labs' proprietary intraCELL V Technology is the key to understanding why intraMAX is unique.

For more information, visit www.druckerlabs.com/ic_technology.html

How can patients obtain intraMAX?

intraMAX is only available through certified health care professionals such as chiropractors.

For more information about how you can provide intraMAX to your patients, visit www.druckerlabs.com. Drucker Labs is currently providing special discounts to chiropractors with their first order of intraMAX.

Normal Version